

BUSINESS ETHICS NETWORK EVENT: 'GOOD BUSINESS GROWS BUSINESS'

Thursday 23rd November 2017
London

Attendance at this event is FREE of charge

A two-hour conference for all management disciplines and those who really want to expand their business in an increasingly compliance-oriented international market place.

ADS has been at the forefront of efforts to encourage the adoption of high ethical business standards across the aerospace, defence and security sectors and has gained positive recognition and from the Government. ADS have promoted many initiatives, including the pan-European Common Industry Standards and published the "Business Ethics Toolkit", to assist companies in their compliance efforts.

ADS' Business Ethics Network (BEN) – Membership of which is free – has been seeking to expand its remit to encompass the full panoply of what is regarded as being "Business Ethics", to build on its previous activities, which had mostly been focused on bribery and corruption issues. Thus, it has been looking at a very wide range of other, linked subjects, such as: Human Rights, Tax Evasion, Autonomy and Artificial Intelligence to develop policy stances on any of these subjects, update its toolkit and resources for small medium enterprises and understand which have a practical impact on the activities of legitimate and responsible aerospace and defence companies.

This event will be split into two 1-hour parts as follows:

- Part 1: Briefings from three external, expert speakers
 1. The Work of Aerospace & Defence Innovation Clusters: Darin Tudor, Head of the Aerospace & Defence Innovation Clusters
 2. The Implications of Human Rights for legitimate Aerospace and Defence Companies: Mark Thompson, Director of the Sustainability & Climate Change Team, PwC UK
 3. The Implications of the new Regulations on Tax Evasion: John Georgiou, Senior Manager at Ernst & Young
- Part 2: Closed session, for BEN Members only – see separate agenda. This will then be followed by a brief networking reception.

Benefits of attending:

- Better understand why issues such as Human Rights and Tax Evasion matter to your business, and how to implement effective compliance processes and procedures
- Obtain insights, guidance and proven tips to overcome ethical compliance risk and succeed in more difficult markets including ways to conduct practical due diligence using internal resources
- Excellent networking opportunities
